1 previously ordered on a significantly shortened timeframe.

2 If each minor plaintiff can fill out 43-page PFSs with 3 over a hundred questions by April 1st and if plaintiffs can 4 conduct 170 depositions of plaintiff's witnesses collectively
5 by the discovery cutoff -- which is, in fact, what we are 6 proposing -- then defendants can certainly do the same number
7 of depositions total because plaintiffs are seeking 152,
8 approximately; whereas, we are offering over 170. But, in any 9 event, the total hours are actually very disparate between what 10 we're seeking as plaintiffs and what defendants are seeking.
11 Defendants are seeking far more. So the rationale of there's 12 not enough time is not well taken.

13 MS. O'NEILL: Your Honor, if I may add --

14 MS. SIMONSEN: Your Honor, those numbers are --

15 MS. O'NEILL: If I may just add --

16 THE COURT: Sure.

17 MS. O'NEILL: -- a bit on the additional request from 18 the AGs for depositions on Meta --

19 THE CLERK: What's your name?

20 MS. O'NEILL: Excuse me. Meghan O'Neill for the State
21 AGs.

22 We think that these additional depositions are 23 warranted for a few reasons, including the specific nature of 24 the AG's action, the case's complexity, and Meta's role in this 25 case.
